School uniforms are common in primary and secondary schools in many countries. Here's a list of countries below.

In Brazil, students wear uniforms in private schools. But in public schools, students don't have to wear uniforms although they might have one. In general, the uniforms are a pair of blue pants and a white T - shirt with the school symbol printed on it.

School uniforms are used in Cuba. All students wear school uniforms with the colour as a symbol of grade level. Children also wear scarves because they are young pioneers.

Japan introduced school uniforms in the late 19th century. Today school uniforms are very common in Japan. Many boys wear white shirts, short pants and caps. Girls' uniforms might include a gray pleated (打褶的) skirt and a white blouse.

In Singapore, all students must wear uniforms. Though the colours are different from school to school, the normal uniform for boys is shorts or long pants, with a shirt (often white), while girls wear white pinafores (连衣裙) or skirts.

八、Answer the questions.

32. I still remember the true story that happened to me many years ago. It started while my family were on vacation. Vacations should be relaxing, but I needed to do some studying. I carefully put all my important papers and books in a large bag, and put it in the car.

After a long drive to Los Angeles, we found a motel, a place for travelers and their cars, with a really good price. So we decided to stay for a week. On the second day, after visiting some interesting places and having a big dinner, we returned to the motel. It was about ten o'clock in the evening, and I started working. However, I couldn't find my paper bag everywhere. I was quite sure that I had put it in the room. Suddenly, I realized the cleaner had taken it out with the rubbish.

I ran over to the main office, and asked if I could talk to the cleaner on duty that day. They told me all the cleaners had left for the day. They showed me where the rubbish bins were instead of offering me any help. I walked out of the motel with a flashlight. I saw three large rubbish bins standing in the dark. I had to look for my bag very carefully. But I didn't have any luck. I almost wanted to give up. When I took another look into the last bin, I saw my bag right on its top! I was never so happy to see such a dirty old bag in my life!
