2020-2021学年河南省周口市项城市八年级（下）期中 试卷

英语

注：满分为100分。

一、阅读理解。阅读下面四篇语言材料，然后按文后要求做题。

1.

Dear Mike,

My desk mate lately told me that there were a lot of people in my class who had hated me for a long time. I thought about how I had behaved in the past, but I don't think I did anything wrong. I feel lonely and sad now. What should I do?

Julia

Dear Julia,

First, you should keep in mind that not everyone is going to like you all the time. Some people might even hate you for no reason at all. I know that sounds unfair, but that's just how some people are.

I will say this for you. It's not good to hear that your classmates supposedly (据说) dislike you. Why did I say "supposedly"? It's possible that your desk mate is lying to you. He or she might be the one who hates you. Your desk mate might be the one who hates you. Your desk mate might be trying to trick you and make you feel sad.

On the other hand, it's also possible that you did something in the past that you don't quite remember—something that made your classmates dislike you. Maybe you can have a chat with your teacher and ask him or her if you misbehaved or hurt someone in the past. However, I think it's more likely that your desk mate isn't being honest with you.

Mike

2. Peter and Jenny were walking home from school along the street. Suddenly, they heard a big noise.

"Come on! That sounds like an accident. Let's see what happened."

They ran to the place where the noise came from. As soon as they got there, they saw what happened. A small car knocked into a truck. The accident happened in a quiet street with only four houses in it. Peter and Jenny were the first ones to reach the accident. No other people came. They found that both the car driver and the truck driver were hurt.

"Peter," said Jenny, "run back down the road to Mrs. Jones' house. Ask her to call the police and the ambulance (救护车). Hurry, I'll stay here."

Peter ran as fast as he could.

There was nothing Jenny could do but wait. She knew that when people were hurt in an accident, they couldn't be moved.

It was not long before the police car and the ambulance arrived. The policemen got the two drivers out. The men weren't badly hurt. But they were both taken to the hospital. The policemen thanked Peter and Jenny.

"You are very good children to act so quickly when you saw the accident. Thank you for all your help."

The truth is that just before you run, it's still difficult to explain to someone why you run. Of course, some people run to lose weight or to be healthy, and these are good reasons.

Running is difficult. You need to persist (坚持). Running is also easy to do. It's cheap and you can do it whenever you want. There are more than two million people in England at least once a week. I'm one of these two million runners. I go running not to lose weight or to be healthy. I run five kilometers every morning. After that I feel great, and it's easy for me to do the other things. After my busy work, I usually go out to run, and I think it is the most wonderful time in a day. I love running and I will keep running. I hope more people love to run every day.
根据材料内容选择最佳答案。

- (1) Who is Dave?
A. A runner. B. Joe's son. C. A teacher. D. Joe's friend.
 - (2) Where does Joe come from?

 - (3) Which of the following words can't describe running according to the writer?
A. Easy. B. Popular. C. Funny. D. Cheap.
 - (4) What can we know about Joe?
A. He goes running to lose weight. B. He runs twice a week at morning.
C. He runs four kilometers every morning.
D. It's easy for Joe to do things after running.
 - (5) What's the best title for this text?
A. Go running B. Dad and son C. How to lose weight D. How to be healthy
4. Your parents do a lot of work around the house to keep things clean and tidy. If you want to pay them back, try to help out with the chores around the house.
- (1) _____ In fact, there are lots of things to do in your own room. Make your bed and fold your clothes to keep them tidy. (2) _____ Get them off the floor and find some places to put them away.
- (3) _____ Before a meal, help your parents to set the table. After the meal, do the dishes and then make sure to put them away. Be careful not to hurt yourself when doing the chores. Cleaning the floor is also important after a meal. Finally, don't forget about an easy chore—taking out the rubbish.
- (4) _____ Sometimes our parents might keep a pet. It's a good idea to help them to look after it. Like you, a pet needs to eat well every day. So make sure to feed it on time. And remember to clean the pet's room often. (5) _____ The pet is part of your family, so spend some time playing with it.
