3. When I saw Ronny for the first time, he looked like other kids in the first – grade classroom where I volunteered as a Reading Mom. However, he usually arrived at school wearing old clothes.

On the day when it was Ronny's turn to read, he sat very close to me. I watched his fingers move slowly under each letter as he tried to speak out "Bud the Sub". It sounded more like "Baw Daw Saw" when he said it because of his difficulty with the alphabet (字母).

The year passed quickly and Ronny had made some progress but he was still below the level of the grade. A few weeks before the school year ended, I held an award (颁奖) ceremony (典礼;仪式). I had gifts and certificates (证书) for everyone. It took me a while to think about which Ronny fit. I believed the gift could cheer him up. I finally decided on "The Most Progressive Reader". I gave him the certificate (证明;证书) and a book.

A few days later, I saw Ronny reading the book when I went back to the school. His teacher said, "He hasn't put that book down. That's the first book he's ever owned."

Fighting back tears (眼泪) I came near Ronny and asked, "Will you read me your book, Ronny?" He nodded.

And then, for the next few minutes, he read to me more smoothly (流畅地) than I'd ever thought. When he finished reading, Ronny closed his book and said. "Good book. "

At that moment, I knew I should do what an author (作家) had done — care children and make them excellent.

5. Recently hand – foot – mouth disease has spread across China. In the past three months, there have been about 41, 846 cases (病例) in 30 provinces and regions. The number is increasing. Eighteen Chinese children have died of the disease so far this year.

What causes the disease and why is it dangerous?

Hand – foot – mouth disease is a common childhood illness. It mainly affects children under the age of 10. It gets its name from the rash (疹子) that develops on the hands and feet. It can also cause blisters (水泡) in your mouth.

A child who has the disease will usually have a fever, a runny nose and sore throat. He or she doesn't want to eat or drink because of pain in the mouth.

Hand – foot – mouth disease is mostly not serious. The fever and rash clear within a few days. But in some cases, the virus (病毒) affects the heart, lungs or brain. This puts the child's life in danger.

A virus causes hand-foot-mouth disease. The disease spreads easily where a lot of young children are together, such as in a child-care center. Sometimes it can also affect teenagers and adults.

6. What is 5G? The "G" in "5G" refers to the generations (代) of mobile network technologies. 1G let us talk to each other, 2G let us send messages, 3G gave us mobile data and the Internet, and 4G made all of these things faster. Now 5G promises much faster data download (下载) and upload speeds, and better connections. This means that you will be able to download a whole HD movie in seconds and only experience a short delay (延迟) between sending and receiving data. For example, when you have a video chat with your friend, there is generally a 100 to 200 – millisecond delay with 4G, but 5G will decrease the delay to 1 millisecond or less, which is almost real time.

According to the Straits Times, 5G will be able to improve many technologies, such as driverless cars, wearable devices (可以穿戴或佩带的装置或设备) and amusement. With a 5G network, the short delay will allow driverless cars to run more safely. They will be able to communicate in real time so as to avoid some dangers. What's more, wearable devices with 5G will help doctors watch better the health condition of their patients. If there's something wrong, they will warn doctors at once. Besides, VR games will become more popular with 5G. The short delay of 5G will make the games feel even more real.
