We speak Chinese every day. But do you really know the charm (魅力) of Chinese?

To help us love Chinese, my school held a Chinese festival at the end of May. The festival had plays, crosstalk, singing and dancing. My class acted out a story from our textbook, Southeast the Peacock Flies (《孔雀东南飞》), and a crosstalk show. Come with me and see how we enjoyed the festival!

Li Jiamin, 14

I was the lead actress in the play. At first, I was worried that I couldn't do it well. But my Chinese teacher Miss Guan told me not to be afraid. She even acted part of the story. With her help, I acted pretty well.

Hao Yifei, 14

I took part in crosstalk. The show was about the five organs of a person. They talked about which one was the most important. I played the head. On that day, every time we spoke funny words, people laughed happily. For the first time I felt that speaking Chinese could be fun!

Tang Qiyao, 14

I also spoke during the play. To my sadness, the microphone (话筒) didn't work well. At that moment, I told myself I had to be calm. I found smiling was a good way to relax. So I smiled. I felt great. I think that being calm is important when facing problems.

- (1) Why did the school hold a Chinese festival?
A. To show students' talents. B. To help the students enjoy Chinese.
C. To help the students learn Chinese well.
- (2) Students in the writer's class acted out the following shows EXCEPT (除了) _____.
A. a song B. a crosstalk show C. a story play from the textbook
- (3) From the passage, we can know that _____.
A. Miss Guan only played a part in a dancing show
B. Hao Yifei had great fun playing the crosstalk in Chinese
C. Tang didn't take part in the festival because of the microphone
- (4) The underlined word "calm" means _____ in Chinese.
A. 沉默的 B. 慌乱的 C. 冷静的
- (5) What is the best title (标题) for the passage?
A. A Chinese Festival. B. A Chinese Story. C. An Important Crosstalk Show.

①Face with tears of joy	②Loudly crying face	③Red heart	④Folded hands	⑤Smiling face with hearts

◆Some facts about emojis.

- In 1998, a Japanese group made the world's first emojis. There were 172 of them.
- Now, there are more than 3, 000 emojis.

◆Why do people like using them so much?

There are a few reasons. With emojis we can show our feelings without having to type. It makes communication (沟通) easier. If I want to say "I love you", I can just send someone a "heart" emoji. Or I can send an "angry face" emoji to say "I'm very sad right now!" Emojis also help us show feelings that are hard to put into words. For example, we can use the Success Kid emoji to celebrate a victory (胜利).

- (1) The underlined word "they" refers to (指) _____.
- (2) Which was people's favorite emoji last year?
