Some TV shows these days also how young dads are trying hard to find the best way to raise their children and keep a closer relationship with them.

Psychologists (心理学家) say that a father plays an important role in a child's growing-up. Fathers teach their children skills and encourage them to try new things. They also help them feel safe. A child learns that if something goes wrong, he or she can depend on his or her dad to help fix it. The psychologists also say that without a dad, a child is more possible to drop out of school and get into trouble.

A mother's love is important, and so is a father's love. Chen Mo, a psychologist says, "It takes both parents to raise a child. Children have different needs at different ages and both parents should consider that."
